Una scultura di AlePiano al Melani

On Friday, Pistoiese unveiled its collaboration with AlePiano, the stage name of Alessandro Piano, a Genoese artist known for his resin sculptures. For the club, AlePiano has created an exclusive series of 16 'AlterEgo Oscar' sculptures, along with an AlterEgo Maxi, a large-scale sculpture that will become part of the club's heritage. The work will be permanently displayed at the Marcello Melani Stadium, as a visual symbol of the club's identity, belonging, and cultural vision. "I want to thank Pistoiese for giving me the opportunity to share something important," said AlePiano. "Lego toys, the bricks, are unique and create bonds, and the idea behind my sculpture is precisely to connect people and bring joy."

The project combines art and social commitment in a concretely meaningful endeavor: all proceeds from the sale of the 16 AlterEgo Oscars will be donated to Pistoiese For Special, a nonprofit organization promoted by Pistoiese to support children and young people with disabilities through sports and social activities aimed at inclusion, independence, and well-being. "It's a synergy that began a long time ago," added Maurizio Turci, vice president of Pistoiese, "from our long-standing acquaintance. Our youth is present in his works. This collaboration between Alessandro and Pistoiese For Special is transforming artistic emotion into social emotion."
